

Final Conference of the FUTURES project

Future laboratories for professional and personal development

Project funded by the European Commission – National Agency PL01 Foundation for the Development of the Education System, Project Number – 2020-1-PL01-KA203-082243

Date: 22.06.2023

Room: 18 KB, Faculty of Engineering Management, Bialystok University of Technology, 2 Tarasiuka Street, Kleosin

Time slot*		Speakers
10.00-10.15	Welcome speech, presentation of the agenda	Dorota Krawczyk , Vice-rector of Bialystok University of Technology Katarzyna Halicka , Dean of the Faculty of Management Engineering , Bialystok University of Technology Anna Kononiuk , Coordinator of the FUTURES project, Faculty of Management Engineering
10.15-10.35	The main assumptions and findings of the Futures project	Anna Kononiuk , Faculty of Management Engineering, Bialystok University of Technology, Poland
10.35-10.55	The main results of FUTURES Intellectual Outputs	Androniki Papaterpou, Ioannis Andronikidis Foundation for Research and Technology – Hellas, Greece Ewa Rollnik-Sadowska , Vice Dean for Student Affairs and Education Faculty of Management Engineering, Bialystok University of Technology, Poland Jitske Gulmans Hanze University of Applied Sciences, the Netherlands
10.55-11.10	Imagining the impossible: an act of radical hope	Loes Damhof Hanze University of Applied Sciences, the Netherlands
11.10-11.30	What's Theatre got to do with it? Body Language and the Labour Market	Nic Fryer Department of Education – Middlesex University, United Kingdom
11.30-11.50	Coffee break

11.50-12.10	Demography, natural environment, mental health and dynamic development of technology as global challenges of the labour market		Lukasz Radzikowski, Career counsellor
12.10-12.20	IT tools for the futures of the Labour Market		Remigiusz Mazur, Mirosław Żurek, Lukaszewicz Research Network
12.20-12.30	Summary		Anna Kononiuk, Coordinator of the FUTURES project, Faculty of Management Engineering Ewa Rollnik-Sadowska, Coordinator of the research tasks, Faculty of Management Engineering
FUTURES WORKSHOPS
	Room: 104 KB	Library	Room: 101 KB	Room: 105 KB	Room:18 KB
12.40-14.10	Title: Anticipation for Emergence: experience multiple futures. Target group : high school learners Facilitators: Loes Damhof, Jitske Gulmans, Ramila Khafaji Zadeh, Hanze University of Applied Sciences, the Netherlands Description: How to use the future to see the present differently? To be more comfortable with uncertainty? Experience multiple futures in this interactive workshop that expands your imagination beyond the impossible! Language: English	Title: Performance for Futures: theatre tools in action! Target group : students and early stage researchers Facilitators: Katy Mulhern MdxWorks – Middlesex University, United Kingdom Description: In this experiential session, participants will engage with performance techniques of embodiment to imagine, explore and confront different futures! Language: English	Title: Anticipation for the Future. De Bono Six Thinking hats technique. Target group : high school learners Facilitators: Remigiusz Mazur Lukaszewicz Research Network, Julia Siderska, Justyna Kozłowska Bialystok University of Technology Description: Learn creative techniques to make decisions about your educational and professional path. Put on your colorful hat – look at your future from multiple perspectives! Language: English	Title: Searching for a first job. Target group: students and early stage researchers Facilitator: Łukasz Radzikowski, career coach Description: What determines that among several people – still without work experience– the one is chosen? Why are they judged to be the best fit for the employer in the recruitment process? What can you already do something to improve your chances in the job market in the future? Language: English	Title: Effective communication – the competence of the future Target group: students and early stage researchers Facilitator: Piotr Szekowski, trainer of public speaking and effective communication Description: An interactive lecture with exercises focusing on the following topics: above-average concentration, self-confidence, empathy, the ability to clearly communicate one's goals, but also to listen actively, understanding body language – in other words, soft skills as superpowers in the age of robotisation, automation and artificial intelligence. Language: Polish
14.15-15.15	Lunch (Room 24 KB)

* the duration of each part is estimated and may be subject to slight shifts depending on the needs of participants to the completion of individual tasks